2022 HAWK INLET TEST FISHERY UPDATE # 1

The department conducted the first of the 2022 Hawk Inlet shoreline test fisheries on Friday, June 24. Comparing the total harvests for the day to the ten-year average total harvests, all species of salmon were below average, except for sockeye salmon. For the approximate date, the sockeye salmon harvest was 122% of the 10-year average, the chum salmon harvest was 24% of the 10-year average, and the pink salmon harvest was negligible.

The size of the pink salmon harvest precluded an informative sex ratio.
