

Jim O'Connor
 Suzy Crosby
 Mary Callaway

Name	From	Comments
1,442. Christy Krop	Snyder, TX
1,443. Deborah Goodwin Potter	Effingham, NH	I am a goat owner because I need the milk as I can't drink cow milk. If I lived in Alaska and this law passed I would no longer have access to needed milk, cheese and yogurt in my diet. Goats are expensive enough to take proper care of without adding oppressive costs on top of it. The tests required are very expensive when you start doing 10, 20, 30 goats. Please reconsider the effects of this proposal.
1,444. Deborah Wood	Los Alamos, NM	I fought the same battle with game and fish in New Mexico regarding the release of big horn sheep in my area. I have a right to ranch/farm it is my livelihood. If the Dall sheep are in decline there is a reason other than domestic sheep and goats. Special interests (hunting, tourism) should NEVER be considered over the farmer/rancher in this country!!!! Small family farms/ranches have every right to continue producing their own food .
1,445. Laurie Gerstner	Botkins, OH
1,446. Jamie Henneman	Rice, WA
1,447. George Kirwin	Spokane, WA
1,448. Angela Herbst	chapel hill, TN
1,449. Tammy Lundley	Glennville, CA
1,450. Suzanne Bardsley	Grass Valley, CA	We are Americans. Taking away the right to own livestock without costly changes is unconstitutional. Please find a less offensive way of solving this issue.
1,451. Anita Deupree	Beggs, OK
1,452. Mike Littrell	PINK, OK
1,453. Dustin Delgado	Pleasanton, TX
1,455. Lynn Fleming	Pine Bush, NY	It's time to do quality research, not illogical legislation.
1,456. noelle lueck	Sumner, ME
1,457. Rebecca Boomhower	Selkirk, NY
1,458. Eli m Gould	Mendon, MA
1,459. Jennifer Nolen	Lithonia, GA
1,460. Doni DeVincent	Montgomery, NY
1,461. Mary Anne Haush	Wallkill, NY
1,462. Glenda Odom	Shelbyville, TN
1,463. Christel Clum	Red Hook, NY
1,464. LAUREL SIMPSON	COLVILLE, WA
1,465. Lydia Wolkins	Agoura Hills, CA
1,466. Elizabeth Corbett	Kingston, MA
1,467. Barbara Hoyt	De Queen, AR

Name	From	Comments
1,468. J Cihanek	Long Beach, NY	LET IT BE!!!!
1,469. Jolene Region	Staatsburg, NY
1,470. darin hendrix	leon, IA
1,471. Wendy Glunt	Ferndale, WA	This is where greed is dictating to the rest of the people. Do NOT pass any part of this.
1,472. Michael Salina	Cabot, PA	Trump 2016. The establishment fears him and he's the last best chance for America!!
1,473. Kathie Zirngibl	Boulder, MT	Please do not place restrictions on goat and sheep farmers who keep their animals on their own private land. This places a severe hardship on the small homestead farmer.
1,474. Julie McCulloch	Creston, CA
1,475. emma henry	milford, PA
1,476. Ardell Ainsworth	Dayton, WA
1,477. Wendy Hemphill	Trussville, AL
1,478. Sheila Gibson	Pahrump, NV
1,479. Natasha Lovell	Kent, WA	Another example of the bullying our government is increasingly doing to its own people. At the behest of special interest groups and other moneyed individuals and groups. Not on my watch!
1,480. Cyndi Wright	Andes, NY
1,481. Emy Roider	Baton Rouge, LA
1,482. Richard Robertson	Fairbanks, AK
1,483. Joan Rowe	Capay, CA
1,484. Danna Day	Rowlett, TX
1,485. Debra Lankford	Emmett, ID
1,486. Brittney Goss	Tooele, UT
1,487. betty boyce	Caldwell, ID
1,488. Taffy Mercer	Kennewick, WA	Peer reviewed science does not support the proposed drastic measures. A recent decision by a judge in the Lower 48 upheld the decision that fact based, peer reviewed science has not been used to propose such drastic measures. The Forest Service was held in contempt! This applies to what is currently being proposed in AK.
1,489. sharla Vaughan-Hein	Weiser, ID
1,490. melanie graham	Fairfield, ID

RC
043

Name	From	Comments
1,491. Curtis King	Burbank, WA	Proposal 90 is on the table awaiting the Alaska Board of Game's ruling at their meeting later this month. This proposal is criminal and needs to be shut down. Science is just beginning to understand disease transmission between domestic goats and wild sheep. Professor Tom Besser's studies conducted at WSU in Pullman, WA, have shown that big horn sheep commingled with Movi free domestic goats are not at risk. Essentially, domestic goats that do not possess Movi pose no risk to big horn sheep. Risk assessments have never been conducted by the State of Alaska and the likelihood that nose to nose contact would occur between Dall sheep and domestic goats is extremely unlikely and has never happened when supervised. Removing pack goats from Alaskan territory was premature and lacked scientific peer review study. The state of Alaska should revisit this and permit pack goat owners to recreate with pack goats in big horn sheep habitat if those pack goats are Movi free and undergo annual testing. The wild sheep foundation has never met, nor has asked to meet, with the North American Pack Goat Association to discuss practices that would allow recreational goat packing and keep our precious sheep herds safe. This bullying, overbearing, criminal harassment being proposed by the sheep foundation is unlawful, unethical, unjustified, and NOT backed by peer reviewed scientific study. More work needs to be done. Until this is done, this proposal needs to be dismissed. For more information on this, please contact the board members of the North American Pack Goat Association, Professor Tom Besser at WSU in Pullman, WA, and Dr. Maggie Highland, Veterinary medicine department, WSU in Pullman WA. Thank you for your attention in this very important matter. Sincerely, Curtis King "LONG LIVE THE PACK GOAT."
1,492. Josie Barry	Delta Junction, AK
1,493. Lori Woodside	Pasco, WA	Proposal 90 is on the table awaiting the Alaska Board of Game's ruling at their meeting later this month. This proposal is criminal and needs to be shut down. Science is just beginning to understand disease transmission between domestic goats and wild sheep. Professor Tom Besser's studies conducted at WSU in Pullman, WA, have shown that big horn sheep commingled with Movi free domestic goats are not at risk. Essentially, domestic goats that do not possess Movi pose no risk to big horn sheep. Risk assessments have never been conducted by the State of Alaska and the likelihood that nose to nose contact would occur between Dall sheep and domestic goats is extremely unlikely and has never happened when supervised. Removing pack goats from Alaskan territory (continues on next page)

Name	From	Comments
1,493. Lori Woodside	Pasco, WA	(continued from previous page) was premature and lacked scientific peer review study. The state of Alaska should revisit this and permit pack goat owners to recreate with pack goats in big horn sheep habitat if those pack goats are Movi free and undergo annual testing. The wild sheep foundation has never met, nor has asked to meet, with the North American Pack Goat Association to discuss practices that would allow recreational goat packing and keep our precious sheep herds safe. This bullying, overbearing, criminal harassment being proposed by the sheep foundation is unlawful, unethical, unjustified, and NOT backed by peer reviewed scientific study. More work needs to be done. Until this is done, this proposal needs to be dismissed. For more information on this, please contact the board members of the North American Pack Goat Association, Professor Tom Besser at WSU in Pullman, WA, and Dr. Maggie Highland, Veterinary medicine department, WSU in Pullman WA. Thank you for your attention in this very important matter. Sincerely, Lori Woodside
1,494. Kent Daniels	Saint Anthony, ID
1,495. Amy Keach	Bagdad, KY
1,496. Jerome Hanson	North Pole, AK	Please do not require any additional restrictions on raising of livestock in Alaska without FIRST directly engaging stakeholders within Alaska, owners of livestock, in the conversation.
1,497. Nancy Clough	Dalton Gardens, ID
1,498. Norma De Vilbiss	Palmer, AK
1,499. Stephanie Olson	Wasilla, AK	We need to be finding ways for Alaska to be more self sufficient when it comes to food not the other way around.
1,500. Rebecca Kurber	Fairbanks, AK
1,501. Paul Dick	Fairbanks, AK
1,502. Astrid Cook	Ketchikan, AK
1,503. Joseph Filla	Delta Junction, AK	Alaskans have absolutely no need for any ridiculous regulations such as this. There is no impact from private goat / sheep livestock on any of the Dall Sheep populations in Alaska.